(Created October 1, 2015)

Effective October 1, 2015, faculty members who submit external grant or fellowship applications meeting the criteria outlined below are eligible to receive a monetary award from the CFA Research Incentive Fund. The award will consist of an amount that will be set at the beginning of each fiscal year, but that is anticipated to be at least $250. The award may be used for classroom supplies, travel or professional development and must be spent by the end of the fiscal year.

Criteria:
- Competitive external grants and fellowships from regional, national and international agencies and foundations are eligible.
- The faculty member must be the PI of the grant
- The faculty member must have research effort on his/her DOE.
- Direct costs for the project must be a minimum of $25,000 per project year. If the grant/fellowship is for salary replacement, the amount awarded must be at least $25,000.
- Faculty members may receive up to two awards per fiscal year.
- Resubmissions of unsuccessful applications do not count; competitive renewals and extensions of grants and fellowships do count.

The Associate Dean for Research will monitor grant submissions for the College made through the UK Office for Research and make awards on a rolling basis. For direct applications (generally those for individual fellowships that are not submitted through the UK Office of Research), the faculty member must e-mail the completed application together with an acknowledgement that the application was submitted generated by the agency or foundation to the Associate Dean for Research Anna Brzyski: anna.brzyski@uky.edu
