Common Threads

Every artwork is different than the next, but they also have plenty in common (style, setting, mood, subject, personality). We can think of these similarities as “threads” that link artworks together. What connections can you make between the two artworks below? Write your answers on the colored threads.

Mike Goodlett, Chicky Baby, 2019, hydrostone, concrete, and paint. Courtesy of the artist.